

A GROUP OF GOLD REEF CLAIMS SOLD

Goldfield Company Purchases Six Claims in Gold Reef District for $10,000 and Will Develop Same at Once.

The Gold Reef Seam group of six claims, located in the heart of the Gold Reef district, and owned by Thomas Fleming, was sold Tuesday to the Goldfield Mining and Ore Reduction company of Goldfield. The total consideration for the property is $10,000, and a substantial payment has been made. The articles of the sale call for a final payment to be made in six months.

The deal was concluded by Martin Arnold of Goldfield, the manager of the Goldfield Mining and Ore Reduction company, and Dr. A. H. Elftman, consulting engineer of the same company. During the past month these gentlemen made several examinations of the property and are satisfied that it will be one of the best mines in the district. Surface work will be started on the property within the next ten days and the sinking of a shaft will be begun. As soon as depth is reached that will call for the use of a gasoline hoist one will be installed and will be the duplicate of the hoist now in operation on the Goldfield property of the company. It is their intention to sink to the 400 foot level before any crosscutting is done, as they believe that the value increase with depth.

The property is located four miles from the railroad and is directly east of the Gold Reef townsite. It joins the properties of the Tonopah-Racine Mining company, the Whitewolf group, the Preston group and the Horseshoe group. There are several veins on the Gold Seam group that crop out on the surface for over a distance of 100 feet. Specimens taken from these ledges show free gold and assays give returns of about $11 to the ton in gold and a trace of silver.

The Rico shaft on the Horseshoe group is now down fifty feet and is working on a five-foot vein, which averages $15 to the ton. L. L. Gilman, president of the Nevada Rico company, states that a hoist will be erected on the property and sinking resumed within sixty days.
